

1276

1864th page

Savoy.

Bl. Innocent V

Ruled only 5 months

1276

Kublai's army captured Hangzhou in 1276. It had been the Song dynasty's opulent capital. Hangzhou had been Marco Polo's favorite city.

1276

182th pope
Gemma, Italy

Adrian V

Died 36 days after his election

1276-1299

Terrible drought came to the Southwest (Four Corners region)
Possible there was no rain at all in these 23 years.

1276-1277

188th pope John XXI
Lisbon, Portugal. Had a short but active Pontificate

1276

Peter III succeeds James I of Aragon.

Genghis x died.

Kublai Khan completes conquest of China

1276-1282

1912 Dates J-BK

England

Conquest of Wales

1276-1285

1912 Dates J-BK

Peter III, king of Aragon (1276-1285)

He conquered Sicily in 1282

1276

The greatest plum in Southern China, the city of HANG ZHOU, was treated like a trophy by KUBLAI KHAN when he conquered it in 1276; largest city in the world by some estimates, the Song capital teemed with at least one million people. The seizure of Hangzhou followed a softening in Mongol behavior. Kublai spared the city's inhabitants, and the surrendering SONG COURT was allowed to retain some of its wealth and privilege.

1276

Mongke launched campaigns even more audacious than Genghis had imagined. He and his brother KUBLAI led renewed assaults on the SONG dynasty in southern China.

From their capital, HANGZHOU, the SONG ruled an empire. They printed books and sent trading ships to JAVA & INDIA.

Fertile lands along the YANGTZE, PEARL & other rivers fed 50 million people.

1276

Hongzhou was captured by Borjag and the Mongols for Kublai Khan.

1276

Edward I (1272-1307) campaigned his 1st against Wales.

He engaged in castle building

1276

Pope Boniface VIII took power
after Pope Celestine resigned